

TrainingSpace is “Best of the Web”

TrainingSpace was recently honored with the New York State Forum’s “Best of the Web” Award.

Each year the New York State Forum of the Rockefeller Institute of Government recognizes outstanding work done by state and local government agencies in the area of information resources management.

TrainingSpace was singled out as a model for other agencies who want to pursue online training for their staff and lauded for its impeccable accessibility features, a main focus of New York State Forum initiatives.

Thanks to all those who have contributed their time and ideas to help make TrainingSpace great!

TrainingSpace houses over 30 web-based trainings plus over 100 job aids and resources to download!

Over 5000 learners have experienced benefits of online instruction through TrainingSpace!

The image shows a screenshot of the MyTrainingSpace website. The header features the logo 'MyTrainingSpace' and the tagline 'The online training resource for New York State social services staff'. Below the header, there is a navigation menu with options like HOME, CATALOG, MATERIALS, and EVENTS. The main content area is divided into several sections: 'Hello!' with a greeting, 'My Trainings' listing various courses like 'TS: Food Stamps - Income Deductions (WBT)', 'From the' section with links to 'The Indian C Caseworker' and 'Food Stamp', and 'Events' listing '2008 LDSS Conference'. A 'Featured' section on the right highlights 'ITAP WRAP-AROUND MATERIALS'. A large, stylized award trophy graphic is overlaid on the right side of the screenshot, with the text 'Best of the Web Award Winner' and 'NYSForum.org' written on it.
